SPECIAL REGISTRARS FOR MINES

In order to prevent a closing down of the mines next Thursday, September 12, the day set for the registration of men between the ages of 18 and 46, arrangements have been made for the registration of miners while they are at their work. This plan was announced on Friday by R. W. Gardiner, production manager of the Pittsburgh district for the United States fuel administration, which he addressed to all the operators in this district. He informed the operators that he has completed arrangements with the draft board in this section for the appointment of special registrars to visit mines before registration day. "Under instructions just issued to the various draft boards throughout the state, it will be possible to have the men in the employ of your company who are within the draft ages as defined by the recent law, register at their places of employment," Mr. Gardiner's letter read. "This will avoid the loss of time incident to the registration at the regular polling places. The local boards are authorized to cooperate with you in working out the details of the matter and will, if necessary, deputize registrars to take the affidavits of the men at the mines. It is advisable, therefore, that you get in touch immediately with the local board for your district and make the necessary arrangements for this registration. The matter will require prompt attention as the registration in the manner here suggested must be complete prior to September 12, the day fixed for registration."

Mr. Gardiner said that if it had not been for this arrangement every mine in the district would have been closed on registration day.

Some standard plan, applicable to every coal mine in the district, is to be arranged for floating the Fourth Liberty Loan among the miners. The matter was discussed in Pittsburgh on Friday at a meeting of the executive committee of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association. It was decided that a general committee shall be appointed to handle the campaign. This is to consist of six men, three to be named by the operators and three by Philip Murray, President of the Mine Workers' Union. The committee is to be named in time to meet next Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m. at the offices of the Pittsburgh Coal company, Pittsburgh, with the Liberty Loan campaign committee.

It has been suggested that a standard plan for all mines which naturally would lead to friendly rivalry would be an efficacious means of insuring the largest possible sale of bonds among the miners.

Save A Soldier By Saving Peach Seeds

Under ordinary conditions peach seeds are not considered of any value. They were always thrown away, and the quicker they were disposed of the better were the soldiers. That was in the days that have gone.

But conditions have changed—in fact they are changing every day, and now peach seeds have a great deal of value. The government wants them, as well as other seeds of like nature, from which it will make carbon. This carbon will be used in the gas masks, to be worn by the soldiers of the United States while in the trenches in Northern France.

Our boys are taking part in the great battles now under way and which are bringing much glory to the allied arms. We want them to be equipped with everything needful and necessary in this strenuous life, and one of these things is a gas mask. These masks, which are continually carried by the soldier, must be so placed that they can be put on in a moment's warning. They save the men from a horrible death by poisonous gas which the Germans sometimes send over the lines. They are absolutely essential to the safety of the men.

Now, the government needs carbon to place in these masks, and it has been found that it can be obtained from peach and other similar seeds. Hence the request to the American people to save these pits and deposit them at some central point where they will be later collected and sent to some designated point for government use.

This is one feature of war work in which practically every person can help. In preserving peaches save the seeds no matter how many and bring them to the Berryman department store; there they can be deposited in a receptacle and properly taken care of. Are you helping?

POLICE TO STOP PLEASURE AUTOS

Acting in conjunction with the officials of other communities in this section of the valley, the CharleROI police will take steps to discourage motoring on Sunday for pleasure. Last Sunday a few automobiles and motorcycles were observed on the streets, and the same conditions may exist tomorrow. If any machines do appear, however, the police have been instructed to stop the auto, question the driver as to his purpose in being out, and also to take the number of the license. Pleasure cars will be stopped wherever seen and the occupants will have to explain why they are out. If their business is legitimate no objections will be offered by the police; if it is simply pleasure or joy riding, the number of the license will be taken, and a report made to the fuel administration.

MORE WAGES POSSIBLE FOR STREET-CAR MEN

Employees of the Pittsburgh Railways Company which also controls the Pittsburgh & CharleROI interurban line are asking an increase in wages to bring their compensation up to the same figures as paid in other cities. The men are asking for 48 cents an hour, together with certain other conditions which will have to do with working conditions. The request is new up to the receivers of the Pittsburgh Railways company for action, and it is not improbable that some favorable action will be taken. The receivers are willing to pay the increase demanded, but impose other conditions which the men feel they cannot accept.

STEEL MEN ON OUTING

Men From Monessen Plant
On 2-Day Pleasure Trip
to Point Marion

ARE GUESTS OF THE MILL

About two hundred and fifty members of the office force, foreman and assistant foremen of the Pittsburgh Steel Products company left on the Fairmont express this morning for Point Marion where they will be the guests of General Superintendent Wikstrom. The party was accompanied by the Steel Products band, and the local station before the departure of the party for the up-river camping place.

Mr. Wikstrom has had a camp established about three miles above Point Marion for the greater part of the summer, his tents being pitched near Lock No. 9. This is the destination of the party which left this morning, and where they will be entertained until Sunday afternoon when they will return.

The outing is being given to the men by the mill officials as a testimonial for the fact that the Monessen plant of the Steel Products company broke all previous records in the August production of steel tubes. The mill is practically shut down today in order to allow the men the privilege of taking the outing at which all of them expect to have a most enjoyable time.

WILL SPEAK ON LIFE IN CAMP

Rev. Keller, of the First Presbyterian church, has selected four topics which he will speak on at the evening service in his church each Sunday evening during September. The topics are:

"Four months with the National Service Commission."
"What a Camp Pastor Can Do."
"From Civilian to Soldier."
"Comedy and Tragedy in Camp Life."

Rev. Keller spent three months as Camp Pastor at Kelly Field, Texas, and one month on a speaking tour of camps in Texas and Oklahoma under direction of the Y. M. C. A. In all 29 camps were visited and 46 addresses were made.

FUEL ADMINISTRATION FAVORS

The Uniontown Commercial Association, composed of the business men of the capital of Fayette county have adopted a resolution which has the "kick" in it, and which makes it mandatory on the part of the members as well as others to aid in the conservation of light and power in their stores and places of business.

The association, in its preamble, calls attention to the fact that the national fuel administration in order to conserve fuel has imposed upon communities what are known as "lightless nights" that the regulations are being rigidly observed in all the cities of the country, and that eastern merchants have put into effect a 6-1-2 hour day which brings the closing time at 4:30 in the afternoon. It further sets forth this preamble:

Whereas, certain merchants in Uniontown dealing in dry goods, clothing, shoes and other ready-to-wear merchandise are not observing this order of lightless nights, by keeping open till 9 p. m. and later, thus nullifying the effect of the order, hence unfair to the government, as well as taking undue advantage of patriotic merchants who close their places of business at the proper time, and who are only too glad to comply with any regulations that means the winning of the war, now.

Therefore, we, the members of the Uniontown Commercial Association, in order to see that every possible saving of fuel can be effected in the name of genuine patriotism call upon all those dealing in dry goods, clothing, shoes and other ready to wear merchandise, now disregarding the order to come to a full compliance therewith.

The resolutions further call upon the local fuel administrator to notify all delinquents that these lightless nights must be observed. They also call upon all merchants to adopt a closing hour of 6 p. m., except Saturday evenings and the resolutions have been approved by the local fuel administrator.

Ambassador Page has resigned his post at London because he is tired out. It would appear that the plain sailing since April 6, 1917 has not removed the effects of the hard sledding during the three preceding years.

FOR SUNDAY REST

The following editorial is taken from the Uniontown News Standard and has reference to the question of the Sabbath in that section of Fayette county the first day the motorless Sunday went into effect:

"Generally speaking we want to compliment the people of Western Pennsylvania for the manner in which they observed the suspension of unnecessary automobile riding last Sunday, the first day upon which the Fuel Administration made its request due no doubt to the ignorance of foreigners with the order or a lack of understanding of the meaning. In some instances tourists caught on their return home kept up their journey. When the people without exception come to realize the aims of the Fuel Administration which is the conservation of gasoline for our army trucks and our aeroplanes in France, there will no doubt be a 100 per cent compliance with the request. Without this compliance the request will likely be turned into an order in which case it will have to be universally and implicitly obeyed.

"We do not care to dismiss these remarks without reverting to the peace and quietude of last Sabbath. It was beautiful. Uniontown enjoyed the first real Sunday it has had for years. No dodging of church goers to escape speeding machines, bent upon burning up the streets and roadways. No pick-nicking on the mountain as if it were a regular holiday. No accidents or hospital cases. The request brought about a reversion to first principles—a return to the Sabbath of our fathers.

"We do not feel like denying to those who have cars the pleasure of using them on the day on which they have the most time to use them; but we will say that so far as the general public is concerned, the suspension of the unnecessary automobile traffic on the Lord's Day felt so good that the wish is father to the thought that this very salutary regulation shall be made permanent.

BACK TO GERMANY

"The present German retreat will go to the German frontier."

This is the definite statement made by Frank C. Simonds, in his latest review of the Battle of Northern France, and which he made Friday morning.

People generally throughout the country follow Mr. Simonds' reviews with the greatest interest and care. They realize that he is fully competent to analyze the various phases of the great campaigns on the western battle front better than any other man outside the military commanders who are directly charged with the duty of prosecuting the various duties assigned to the different armies.

Mr. Simonds is a very conservative writer and heretofore has refrained from making direct statements, although he has continually pointed out the possibilities of the various movements of the different armies and what affect certain assaults would have on the general plan of the campaign as they occurred from time to time. However, after going over the situation he has evidently come to the opinion that the Germans are going to be pushed out of northern France before long and that before the end of the present campaign the Hun hordes will be back in Germany, where they will no doubt exert every effort to defend their home country from the forces of the Allied armies. Once out of France the allies will then turn their attention to getting the Boche out of Belgium and it may be done by a flanking move, for the Allies hold strong strategic positions in the southern sector and but a short distance from the Rhine. Indeed it is not surprising if the Rhine is reached by the Allied forces before the severe winter weather sets in, thus giving a good setting for a forward campaign which the Allies will undoubtedly put under way with the coming of spring. The end of the war will be fought on German soil, which is eminently right and proper.

VISITORS AT THE FRONT

Civilian interference with war management ran to ludicrous extremes in 1861-5, when a Congressional committee, not content with the usual investigations, actually visited battle-grounds and reconnoitered the Confederate lines in person with a view to determining whether an advance of the Union armies would be expedient. We are wiser now, propositions looking new unless they completely disavow toward similar imbecility having been promptly checked by the President's opposition and the public's good sense.

Nevertheless there has been much unwelcome visiting at the front by privileged American officials. Without the alleged American officials, the President's word availed three times out of four within his own party, but his one alleged interference outside was without effect.

A tank must keep going when the going is good—that is, when its opening gaps in the enemy's lines for the infantry at its back to rush into. The German officer who complains "bitingly" that an "ungentlemanly" British tank would not stop when he offered to surrender is either insincere or "frutty."

GERMANY'S "THERMOPYLAE"

At Thermopylae and Marathon the Greeks fought with the courage of desperation against vast forces of Persian invaders who wished to enslave a small and brave people. On the west front the Germans are fighting to maintain their hold on territory recently conquered from France without the shadow of an excuse. The Germans are the modern Persians while the French suggest the heroic Greeks. It is about as reasonable for the Germans to liken themselves to the Greeks of old as for a burglar to claim the rights of and the sympathy belonging to the innocent household whose goods are filched from him at midnight. And yet this is what the Germans are doing. They speak of their forced retreat from the French territory they have trodden down as a heroic struggle to "save the fatherland," one prominent German newspaper actually comparing the present effect of the Germans to keep their grip on stolen lands to the stand of Leonidas and his noble little band of Spartans against the Persian hosts at the pass of Thermopylae.

It is enough to make a donkey laugh in derision, but it is shrewdly timed and will serve its turn. The object in replacing the old picture of an invincible Germany with that of a fatherland threatened with extinction is, of course, to terrify the Germans into a willingness to fight on and endure. The "war lords" now know that they cannot win, but in this way they hope to prolong the war until the weary Allies agree to a peace at least leaving Germany itself intact and saving the Hohenzollern dynasty. This explains their changed tone.

PALMER'S STATEMENT

Judge Bonniwell as well as Senator Penrose and John Sinnott, deny the statement made by A. Mitchell Palmer at the meeting of the Democratic State Committee on Wednesday. This has caused no surprise. Mr. Palmer had to find some excuse for the miserable failure of the Guffey campaign and takes refuge in blaming the trouble on Senator Penrose, whom he claims was in collusion with Sinnott and Bonniwell. Judge Bonniwell, whether a desirable candidate or not, went out in the contest over Guffey for the gubernatorial nomination and under the rules of the game ought to have been given the usual consideration by the state committee. However, Palmer, McCormick, et al., who control the state committee cannot see it that way, and consequently want to "dump" Bonniwell and place some other man on the ticket. However, Bonniwell will not likely do so, and the chances are that the Democratic state campaign is shot to pieces. It is a fairly quarrel and they can fight it out.

CALLING THE BOLSHIEVSKI

Great Britain has "called" the Bolshievi regime of Russia. The British consulate was raided by the Soviet government and a British army officer killed. How the British Empire wants a complete disavowal from those who have taken over the reins of the British government, else there is apt to be something doing. Moreover, followers of Lenin and Trotsky are liable to be regarded as international outlaws to be dealt with as the circumstances justify.

stances justify. Germany will be in position to support the present government of Russia and the prepetrate the acts of the outrage against British troops. We are likely come in for severe punishment now, propositions looking new unless they completely disavow toward similar imbecility having been promptly checked by the President's opposition and the public's good sense.

Nevertheless there has been much unwelcome visiting at the front by privileged American officials. Without the alleged American officials, the President's word availed three times out of four within his own party, but his one alleged interference outside was without effect.

A tank must keep going when the going is good—that is, when its opening gaps in the enemy's lines for the infantry at its back to rush into. The German officer who complains "bitingly" that an "ungentlemanly" British tank would not stop when he offered to surrender is either insincere or "frutty."

TO SEND BODY TO WASHINGTON

The body of James Thompson, the colored man who was shot at Wireton last Wednesday night, will likely be shipped to Washington City on Monday next. Lawrence B. Fry, undertaker, telegraphed a sister of the deceased, Miss Anne Thompson of 2130 Eighth street that city, on Friday asking what disposition should be made of the body. A telegram was received by Mr. Fry this morning asking him to send the body to the Union Station, Washington, D. C., which he will do on Monday if the necessary arrangements can be made.

No new developments concerning the shooting have come to light. Corner Heffran however will hold an inquest next Monday evening at the Frymorgue at which time an effort will be made to place the blame for the man's death.

2ND PLATOON HIKE TUESDAY

At the business meeting of the Charlottesville Home Defense Police, Friday evening arrangements were made by the Second Platoon for a second hike, which will be held next Tuesday evening, September 10. All members of the Platoon are ordered to meet at the Pennsylvania station at 7 o'clock on the above date in uniform, without blouse, to report to the commanding officer for further instructions. In case of unfavorable weather suitable place will be secured for drill.

EMPLOYERS MAY ASK FOR EXEMPTION OF MEN

Employers of men who are required to register Thursday, September 12, and who may so desire, may enter a claim for exemption for employees who are considered absolutely necessary. Many men who will register will not ask for exemption because of patriotic motives, but the Provost Marshal asks employers to expedite matters by making the exemption claim for such men. It is not the purpose of the government to cripple any essential industry, hence it will be necessary to place many of the men registered in deferred classifications.

TO RECRUIT ARMY OF 17,000 MEN FOR WAR WORK

A community labor board is to be organized in Pittsburgh next week, under the direction of the United States employment service to recruit the army of 17,000 men the war industries of the Pittsburgh district are short and so vitally needed to prosecute important government contracts. The vacancies in all the essential plants will be filled by labor taken from non-war work concerns.

Back Bad Today?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors.

Mrs. D. F. Worthington, Second street, says: "I was troubled by backache for years. The pains were so intense at times it made me sick all over. I was always worse in the morning. Whenever I stooped a sharp pain darted through me and I could hardly catch my breath. Often it was just as though a knife were being stuck into me and I was tired all the time. I had rheumatic pains all through my body and my feet became swollen. I bought a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills at Piper Bros. Drug Store and they relieved me of all symptoms of the trouble. I now take Doan's Kidney Pills once in awhile and they always help me."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Worthington had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR DUTY TO OBEY

It is the patriotic duty of every motorcycle rider in the country to heed the request of the fuel administration and cease Sunday riding until the government lifts the ban.

It is true that if every motorcycle in the country were used on Sunday the amount of gasoline consumed would be comparatively small, but that is not the point.

The point is that what one must do all must do. Thousands of motorcycle riders are fighting in France or training in the home camps. It is a comparatively small sacrifice for those of us who are not in uniform to forego our Sunday pleasure ride.

There will doubtless be some slackers who will try to evade the ruling. Let us hope that their number is confined to the auto owners and that the motorcycle riders make a clean record. Albright's Cycle Store. 78-23 was so perfect that the National Board of Review made a special report upon it.

This is an extract from the special report:
Entertainment value excellent; Educational value excellent; Costuming excellent; coherence of narrative strong; acting admirable; atmospheric quality of scenic setting convincing; historical value—a real contribution; moral effect—excellent. In the opinion of those present this picture is an adequate representation of the great Number Four.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section one of article
nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, relating to taxation.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Section 1. All taxes shall be uniform, upon the same class of subjects, within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws; but the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity.

Section 2. Said proposed amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the general election to be held on Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen, for the purpose of deciding upon the approval and ratification of the rejection of said amendment. Said election shall be opened, held, and closed upon, said election day, at the places and within the hours in which such election shall be directed to be opened, held, and closed,
and in accordance with the provisions of the laws of Pennsylvania governing elections, and amendments thereto. Such amendment shall be printed upon the ballots in the form and manner prescribed by the election laws
of Pennsylvania, and shall in all respects conform to the requirement of such laws.

The prohibitionists' unexpectedly agreed to the President's proposition not to make the country bone dry until next July, although they are hoping that the war will be over by that time. Perhaps they are thinking less of the time necessary of which they speak than of a peace time period for which they presently leave no provision.

DEATH TAKES AN AGED CITIZEN

Samuel Mills, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Bentleyville, died at his home in that borough on Thursday, September 5, after a longing illness. He was a member of one of the oldest and best known families of western Pennsylvania and his death removes one of the Pigeon creek valley's best known men and the town's oldest citizens. Mr. Mills was aged 95 years. He spent the greater part of his life in that community.

Mr. Mills was born near Hagerstown
Md. He was for many years a member of the Pigeon Creek Baptist church and was one of its most active members. He served for three years in the civil war with the 140th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer infantry. His wife died seven years ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Mills home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. J. E.
Stanton, pastor of the Bentleyville Baptist church. Interment will take place at Pigeon Creek cemetery.

SOUVENIR FROM BATTLE FRONT

Harry R. Campbell, chief clerk of the county commissioners at Washington, has received a souvenir of the great drive of the Americans in France from Captain John Aiken of Company H 110th regiment, now in the battle line. It consists of a shoulder strap from the uniform of a "good boy" who was killed in action.

Where a lot more are going. In a letter which was sent with the relic Capt. Aiken states that it was taken from the uniform of a German who was credited to his battalion. When the letter was written Captain Aiken was Major of a battalion, although he expected to be returned to his company in a short time.

The sinking of one of our submarine
chasers by the gun crew of an American merchantman calls to mind similar fatal errors in other wars a memorable instance being the tragic sinking of General "Stonewall" Jackson's Confederates who would have been lost for him.

THE WRONG MEDICINE

A community is no better than the men and women who live in it. If you and I do all our Community suffers. But it is useless to look far away for the remedy. The real remedy is near at hand. It is we who are able to kill or cure. The wrong medicine kills—the medicine that bears the out-of-town label. But the tonic that cures is the practice of "trade-at-home." Let us all—each one of us—from this day on practice and preach, "trade at home."
